

Financial Advisor Blackhaw Wealth Management Opens to New Clients

AUSTIN, Texas, March 11 /PRNewswire/ -- Austin-based Blackhaw Wealth Management, an independent financial advisor, announced today that it is formally open and accepting new clients. Blackhaw Wealth Management is a Registered Investment Advisor providing investment management services to private clients seeking a high level of expertise and professional portfolio management.

"After our soft launch in late 2009, we've had a considerable degree of enthusiasm for our investment management services and appreciation for our experience and credibility among prospective clients," says Ian McAbeer, President and Chief Investment Officer. "Our firm offers a superior level of independence and expertise, which is often lacking among traditional stockbrokers and financial advisors. Our typical clients are business owners and successful professionals who understand the importance of true independence, experience, and financial market acumen. They desire expertise and professional portfolio management for their financial assets."

An experienced financial advisor and investor for private clients, Mr. McAbeer founded Blackhaw Wealth Management to provide objective, independent, portfolio management services and financial advice to individuals and families who dislike the conflicts of interest inherent in traditional brokerage or commission-driven businesses, and who also seek a professional financial advisor with significant experience in capital markets. "Clients appreciate that we are not trying to sell them a product, but instead develop comprehensive investment solutions that are tailored to their return objectives, risk tolerance, and personal financial situation," says McAbeer. "Because of our independence, we are able to evaluate a wide range of investment strategies for our clients, including treasuries, inflation-indexed securities, corporate and municipal bonds, stocks, master limited partnerships, foreign currencies, and even direct acquisition of precious metals, such as gold and silver."

Prior to founding Blackhaw Wealth Management, Mr. McAbeer was the Director of Investment Research for a private family office investment company in Austin, Texas. Mr. McAbeer is also a Chartered Financial Analyst ("CFA"). The CFA designation is globally recognized as the most rigorously focused credential for financial professionals who specialize in investment research and investment management.
